beyond
the classroom

at Lawrence Academy

Endless options...

Lawrence Academy's Co-Curricular program aims to promote the health of mind, body, and spirit through the building of athletic or artistic skills, teamwork, and collaboration. Each LA student is required to participate in an afternoon activity for all three terms. From our varsity, JV and thirds teams to our offerings in dance and theater, students can invest themselves completely in their favorite activity while also being encouraged to branch out and try a sport or arts offering that might be entirely new to them.

Curious about what you'll be involved in beyond the classroom at LA? Check out our offerings ...

...and beyond

Beyond the classroom and afternoon requirements, Lawrence Academy students pride themselves on being involved and active members of the school's student-centered community. Many LA students choose to involve themselves in special interest clubs and community service opportunities that match their interests; additionally, some students aspire to lead during their time on campus, with the goal of making LA a better place to live and learn for all.

The following is just a sampling of the ways in which you can become involved on the LA campus.

Mickey Feeney – senior; Concord, MA

Hi, I'm Mickey Feeney, a day student from Concord, Mass.! At LA, I serve as the student body president, and my favorite subject is English. I am the founder of both the student jazz ensemble, Spartan Swing, and the LA Walk for Hunger team. I also serve as the co-leader of the debate club, play the drums, and am a member of the Cultural Coffeehouse. Lastly, I play squash and will be the captain of the team this year! Being involved on campus has been a huge part of my experience at LA, and I'm eager to lead the student body during my senior year.

Kassandra Almanzar – senior; Lawrence, MA

Hi, I'm Cassandra, a boarding student from Lawrence, Mass.! On LA's campus, I'm a member of the Elm Tree Society, a co-president of UMOJA, a member of the Judiciary Council, and a proctor; I also play JV volleyball and JV lacrosse. My favorite subjects are history, English, and French, which have challenged me and pushed me to learn new things and read some extremely interesting books – sort of like Mountain Day, my favorite LA tradition. Before coming here, I'd never climbed a mountain before, and it's a lot of fun to get out of my comfort zone and get to the top ... The view is worth it!
